Independent Inquiry relating to Afghanistan (IIA)

HQ PM(A) Update: February 2025

Hearings

The Inquiry held two days of OPEN hearings on the 27th and 28th January 2025 at the Royal Courts of Justice where the Inquiry heard evidence from Alan Pughsley QPM, a former Chief Constable with extensive civilian policing experience in serious and complex crime. Through comparison with Home Office best practice, Mr Pughsley prepared a report based only on documentary evidence from the Operation NORTHMOOR and CESTRO investigations. Like any thorough review, Mr Pughsley's report casts a critical eye over all aspects of the investigations. In adducing evidence, it was recognised that the military context will need to be added by future RMP witnesses to the Inquiry.

Themes covered in the hearings include, but are not limited to, resourcing, record keeping, progress of the investigation and the rationale behind the closure of Op NORTHMOOR. Royal Military Police witnesses and others involved in the Operation NORTHMOOR and CESTRO investigations will have their own opportunity to give oral evidence in due course. It will ultimately be for the Chair of the Inquiry to make findings based on all the evidence he has heard.

The recordings of the hearings can be watched on YouTube and the transcripts can be found on the Inquiry website. The report will be published on the Inquiry website in due course.

There were some media articles written by the press regarding the evidence adduced in court. Please do get in touch with the RMP Inquiry team should you wish to discuss them.

Inquiry Update

At the end of the hearing on Tuesday 28th January, the Chair of the Inquiry, Lord Justice Sir Charles Haddon-Cave, gave an Inquiry update. This can be found in the transcript on the Inquiry website dated 28th January 2025, from page 140, line 10. Or, you can watch on YouTube from 1:55:22-2:04:40.

At the end of the hearing on Tuesday 28th January, the Chair of the Inquiry, Lord Justice Sir Charles Haddon-Cave, gave an Inquiry update. This can be found in the transcript on the Inquiry website dated 28th January 2025, page 140, line 10. The first update the Chair provided, was to confirm that some RMP witnesses have officially been requested to provide witness statements to the Inquiry. These witnesses are being supported by members of both Counsel and Government Legal Department teams. Supporting the Chair in the difficult task of establishing the truth, the RMP will continue to fully support the Inquiry, in an open and transparent manner, ensuring witnesses provide their best, honest evidence. It will ultimately be for the Chair of the Inquiry to make findings based on all the evidence he has heard from both OPEN and CLOSED hearings.

> Witness statements from the Royal Military Police have been requested and are being collated. These witnesses will be invited to give evidence in due course and Mr Pughsley will have the opportunity to review that evidence and be informed by it and may wish to update his provisional views that he has expressed in his substantial report.

The Chair also went on to provide updates on six key areas:

- Last autumn, the Inquiry heard from witnesses in CLOSED hearings who made direct contact with the Inquiry.
- The Complaints and Concerns Part 2 hearings, also held in CLOSED, have almost been concluded. The Inquiry has heard from those who broadly raised and encountered concerns within the military about the conduct of UKSF in the period covered by the Terms of Reference.
- The MOD's resourcing position has improved, and the progress of the Deliberate Detention Operations (DDO) Phase 3 have advanced.
- The Inquiry has obtained what it believes to be backups of the UKSF server known as ITS1. The Inquiry intends to restore the backups, with help of subject matter experts, and carry out their own analysis.

- Under the supervision of a national senior forensic expert, the Inquiry has also instructed forensic experts to assist with the analysis of selected DDOs. Please see the excerpt below for more details.
- The Inquiry is also in discussion with Leigh Day, on how is best to receive their evidence, the evidence of their clients, the Afghan Families.

> There are four areas, in particular, which are being considered: first, blood stain pattern analysis, to consider the blood stain patterns in the evidence published; second, ballistic analysis, to consider evidence relating to the use of firearms; third, clinical trauma; and, fourth, pathology, to consider the injuries suffered by the deceased, as depicted in the evidence.
